TYPES OF FINANCIAL AID

Financial aid is federal, state, institutional and private monies used to assist eligible students in funding their education. Financial aid can be scholarships, grants, loans, tuition waivers, and student employment.

SCHOLARSHIPS

Scholarships are funds that do not have to be repaid. They are awarded based on a student meeting certain eligibility criteria. Scholarships are provided by many sources both on and off campus.

GRANTS

Grants are funds that do not have to be repaid. They are available to students who meet financial need criteria. (See how to determine need, page 6)

LOANS

Loans allow students to borrow money for educational expenses. Loans are subject to interest rates and must be repaid.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT AND WORK STUDY

Student employment helps students pay for college costs while gaining work experience. Work study is available for students who meet financial need criteria, but it is not required for most student jobs at Texas A&M University.

TUITION WAIVERS

Non-resident tuition waivers allow students who are not Texas residents to pay the tuition required of students who are from Texas. These waivers are available to students awarded a competitive University scholarship of a minimum dollar amount.

AGGIE ASSURANCE

Texas A&M University is committed to assisting low and middle income students through Aggie Assurance. Aggie Assurance helps Texas students with a family income of $60,000 or less by ensuring that eligible students have enough scholarships and grants to cover tuition.

We have expanded Aggie Assurance to provide tuition support grants for first-time freshman and transfer students whose family income is greater than $60,000 but no more than $130,000. The amount of the tuition support grants will vary based on income and financial need. Tuition support grants will not cover full tuition.

COST OF ATTENDANCE

Your estimated cost of attendance (COA) does not cover just your college tuition and fees; it includes your basic living expenses, too. So think about this: it is going to cost you the same amount to live for the next few years whether you are in college or not.

When comparing financial aid packages from other schools, make sure you are comparing the total cost for attending that school, not just the total financial aid awarded.

HOW TO DETERMINE FINANCIAL NEED

The Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is calculated from the information you (and your parent[s]/spouse) report on your financial aid application. Financial need is the basis for most financial aid programs.

tuition, fees, housing & meals, transportation, books, etc.

— EXPECTED FAMILY CONTRIBUTION

== FINANCIAL NEED

CALCULATING YOUR NET COST

Use Texas A&M's cost of attendance then subtract all grants and scholarships you have been offered. This will determine your net cost.

== NET COST

NET COST
Net cost is calculated to assist you and/or your family in determining the cost of school and any funding that may need to be repaid. Once you have been offered financial aid, refer to the College Financing Plan in your Financial Aid Offer Letter, located on the Awards page in the Financial Aid Portal, for more information on net cost. Students and possibly their parents may borrow from various student loan programs to help meet the total cost of educational expenses.

APPLYING FOR AID

FREE APPLICATION FOR FEDERAL STUDENT AID (FAFSA)

Complete the FAFSA online at studentaid.gov. The FAFSA is available October 1. We recommend applying as early as possible. By completing the FAFSA, you are applying for federal, state and institutional aid. This includes grants, some scholarships, loans, and work study. The school code for TAMU is 003632.

The FSA ID (a username and password) must be set up to log in to certain U.S. Department of Education websites. Your FSA ID confirms your identity when you access your financial aid information and is used to electronically sign Federal Student Aid documents. If you do not already have a FSA ID, you can create one when logging in to studentaid.gov.

TEXAS APPLICATION FOR STATE FINANCIAL AID (TASFA)

If you are not eligible to complete the FAFSA because of citizenship or visa status, but you are eligible to be classified as a Texas resident for tuition purposes, you may apply for state financial aid through the TASFA. You must complete the TASFA to be considered for many scholarships and grants. All supporting documentation must be submitted before a TASFA is considered complete and will be processed. Texas A&M University uses an online version of the TASFA that becomes available October 1. Information on how to access the application is available at aggie.tamu.edu.

You (and your parent[s] or spouse) will need information from the 2021 tax return you filed with the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) in order to apply for financial aid.

IMPORTANT: Use the IRS Data Retrieval tool when completing the FAFSA. This tool allows you to automatically transfer IRS tax data into your FAFSA, which makes the FAFSA easier to complete.

AFTER APPLYING

DETERMINING YOUR FINANCIAL NEED

Your Expected Family Contribution (EFC) is the amount that you and your parent(s) are expected to provide toward your educational costs from a combination of income, savings, or non-need-based loans. The EFC is calculated from the information you (and your parent[s]/spouse) report on your FAFSA/TASFA. Financial need is the basis for most financial aid programs.

PROCESSING YOUR FINANCIAL AID

Once we receive the results from your FAFSA/TASFA, we will offer you financial aid for the academic year (Fall/Spring). If we ask you to provide additional documentation, all requested documents must be received before your aid is disbursed. All offers are made on a first-come, first-served basis. Once you have received your offer letter, log on to the Howdy Portal at howdy.tamu.edu. Click on the Financial Aid icon and enter the Financial Aid Portal to accept/reduce/decline your aid. Accepting your financial aid does not confirm your admission to Texas A&M.

HOW TO REPORT OUTSIDE SCHOLARSHIPS AND OTHER RESOURCES

If you are the recipient of scholarships or other resources from a source other than Texas A&M University, you must report those awards to our office as soon as possible.

- To report an award from an outside source, please click on the "Report Outside Scholarships and Resources" link on the Status page in the Financial Aid Portal.
- Mail scholarship checks you receive to Scholarships & Financial Aid.
- The Donor Form is to be used by donors to inform our office about how they would like us to distribute the scholarship funds they are providing for you. This form can be found online in the "Scholarships" section under "Forms and Media" at aggie.tamu.edu.
- An adjustment to your financial aid offer may be necessary to maintain your eligibility.
- You may be required to repay financial aid you have already received.
- Unless your scholarship check has specific instructions from the donor, it is our policy to divide all scholarships of $1,000 or more into two equal payments to be paid at the beginning of each semester (Fall and Spring). This will help you pay your tuition, fees or other expenses.

Additional factors for selection include, but are not limited to, leadership, community service, special talents, first generation college status, and academic achievement under difficult circumstances. Some scholarships also have a financial need component. More information about scholarships and eligibility requirements are available at aggie.tamu.edu.
